

Revised Instagram ICP Qualification Logic

Ideal Client Profile Definition

A qualified lead must be:

A coach or consultant using a personal brand to sell a coaching program, consulting offer, course, mentorship, mastermind, or similar knowledge-based transformation, with at least 5,000 Instagram followers.

The system should not qualify every expertise-based business. It should specifically identify personal-brand-led coaches and consultants with an established Instagram audience.

1. Hard Qualification Gates

A lead must pass every required gate before receiving an ICP score.

Gate 1: Minimum Audience Size

Pass

- Instagram follower count is 5,000 or more

Fail

- Instagram follower count is below 5,000

Unknown

- Follower count was not captured or cannot be verified

Unknown follower count should result in:

MANUAL_REVIEW

It should not automatically qualify or reject.

Gate 2: Personal Brand

The Instagram profile must primarily represent an identifiable individual whose identity is central to the business.

Pass signals

- The account uses a person's name

- The individual appears prominently in the content
- The bio is written from the individual's perspective
- The content contains personal opinions, education, stories, lifestyle, or expertise
- The person is visibly the coach, consultant, expert, founder, or educator
- The offer depends on the individual's expertise or methodology
- The account builds trust around the individual rather than only around a company

Examples:

- John Smith | Business Coach
- Sarah Jones — Fitness & Nutrition
- Alex Brown | Consultant
- A creator-led account using a brand name where the individual is clearly the face

Fail signals

- Faceless theme page
- Meme page
- Media publication
- Repost account
- SaaS company account
- E-commerce brand
- Local company page
- Agency account with no visible individual expert
- Education company where no founder or personal expert is central
- Corporate brand profile

Ambiguous accounts

A branded account may still pass when:

- A specific founder is clearly the face
- Content is consistently delivered by that person
- The offer is built around that person's expertise
- Visitors are buying access to, education from, or transformation through that individual

Gate 3: Coach or Consultant

The profile must show that the individual operates as a coach, consultant, mentor, strategist, advisor, educator, or transformation expert.

Direct pass signals

- Coach
- Consultant
- Mentor
- Strategist
- Advisor
- Private coaching
- Consulting

- Mentorship
- Mastermind
- Group coaching
- 1:1 coaching
- Online program
- Course creator

Semantic pass signals

The exact title is not required when the business model is clear.

Examples:

- "I help agency owners scale past €100k/month"
- "Helping men transform their bodies and confidence"
- "Teaching creators how to build profitable personal brands"
- "Helping consultants sign premium clients"
- "Founder of a program for online coaches"

Fail signals

- Influencer with sponsorship income only
- Affiliate marketer without a proprietary offer
- Freelancer selling execution only
- Agency selling only done-for-you services
- Entertainer or lifestyle creator
- Physical-product seller
- Speaker with no coaching, consulting, or educational offer
- Employee sharing professional content but selling nothing independently

Agency-owner exception

An agency owner qualifies only when they also sell:

- Coaching
- Consulting
- Mentorship
- A course
- A mastermind
- A knowledge-based program

A pure agency service does not meet the core ICP.

Gate 4: Relevant Offer

The lead must sell, or clearly appear to sell, at least one relevant offer.

Accepted offer types

- One-to-one coaching

- Group coaching
- Consulting
- Mentorship
- Mastermind
- Online course
- Cohort-based course
- Educational membership
- Transformation program
- Certification program
- Private instruction
- Hybrid coaching and course offer

Strong evidence

- Offer named in the bio
- “1:1 coaching”
- “Apply for coaching”
- “Join my program”
- “Book a consultation”
- “Work with me”
- Course or program landing page
- Application funnel
- Coaching Highlight
- Client or student onboarding content
- Testimonials referring to the program
- A checkout page for a course or coaching product

Weak evidence

- Educational content only
- “Helping people grow”
- Generic link in bio
- “Entrepreneur”
- “Founder”
- Testimonials with no identifiable offer
- A newsletter or free community without evidence of a paid offer

Weak evidence should produce:

MANUAL_REVIEW

Fail signals

- No offer found across the bio, Highlights, content, or linked pages
- Only affiliate products
- Only sponsorships
- Only physical products
- Only done-for-you agency work
- Only free content

2. Immediate Classification Logic

```
IF followers < 5,000:
    REJECT

ELSE IF follower count is unknown:
    MANUAL_REVIEW

ELSE IF personal brand is clearly false:
    REJECT

ELSE IF coach_or_consultant is clearly false:
    REJECT

ELSE IF relevant coaching_or_course_offer is clearly false:
    REJECT

ELSE IF any required business-model gate is uncertain:
    MANUAL_REVIEW

ELSE:
    Calculate ICP Quality Score

Passing the gates means the lead fits the broad ICP. The score then measures how attractive the lead is within that ICP.

3. ICP Quality Score

Maximum: 12 points

Dimension 1: Audience Specificity

0 points

No recognizable target customer.

1 point

The audience is implied through content or testimonials.

2 points

The audience is explicitly named.

Examples:

- Coaches
 - Consultants
 - Agency owners
 - Founders
 - Men over 30
 - Executives
 - Fitness professionals

Dimension 2: Transformation Clarity

0 points

No meaningful outcome is communicated.

1 point

The field of expertise is clear, but the result is broad.

2 points

A concrete transformation is communicated.

Examples:

- Sign premium clients
 - Scale a consulting business
 - Lose fat and build muscle
 - Build a profitable personal brand
 - Improve confidence and relationships
 - Grow an online coaching business

Dimension 3: Offer Clarity

0 points

The offer technically exists, but its format is almost impossible to understand.

1 point

A coaching, consulting, or course offer is visible, but details are limited.

2 points

The offer type, target buyer, and intended result are clear.

Strong signals:

- Named program
 - Clear coaching package
 - Application page
 - Course sales page
 - Defined mentorship
 - Clear deliverables or method

Dimension 4: Conversion Path

0 points

No usable next step despite evidence that an offer exists.

1 point

Generic link or vague “work with me” CTA.

2 points

Clear direct-response CTA.

Examples:

- Apply
 - Book a call
 - DM a keyword
 - Comment a keyword
 - Join the program
 - Watch free training
 - Register for a masterclass
 - Enrol in the course

Dimension 5: Proof

0 points

No visible proof.

1 point

General authority, personal results, expertise, or unverified claims.

2 points

Concrete client or student proof.

Examples:

- Testimonials
 - Client wins
 - Student results
 - Case studies
 - Before-and-after results
 - Quantified revenue or growth
 - Results Highlights
 - Screenshots connected to identifiable outcomes

Dimension 6: Funnel and Business Maturity

0 points

The profile appears improvised or commercially incomplete.

1 point

Some intentional funnel elements exist.

2 points

The personal brand operates as a deliberate acquisition funnel.

Strong maturity signals:

- Clear positioning in the name field
 - Clear bio promise
 - Application, webinar, course, or booking funnel
 - Results Highlights
 - Start Here Highlight
 - Offer Highlight
 - Pinned proof or introduction content
 - Lead magnet
 - Retargeting or paid-ad indicators
 - Multiple calls to action
 - Branded program or methodology

4. ICP Score Thresholds

10–12 points: Tier A — Very Qualified

The lead strongly resembles the best example profiles.

Typical characteristics:

- Explicit buyer
- Clear transformation
- Visible coaching or course offer
- Strong conversion path
- Client or student proof
- Mature personal-brand funnel

Recommended action:

QUALIFIED_HIGH_PRIORITY

7–9 points: Tier B — Qualified

The lead clearly fits the ICP but has weaker positioning, proof, or funnel maturity.

Recommended action:

QUALIFIED

4–6 points: Tier C — Weak Fit or Manual Review

The person appears to fit the basic ICP, but commercial readiness is unclear.

Typical issues:

- Offer exists but is difficult to understand
- Weak proof
- No clear CTA
- Personal-brand business looks early-stage
- Landing page is unavailable
- Coaching or course status may be outdated

Recommended action:

MANUAL_REVIEW

0–3 points: Reject After Gate Review

The profile may technically contain a coaching-related signal but does not show sufficient evidence of an active, commercially viable coaching or course business.

Recommended action:

REJECTED

5. Story Highlight Scoring

Highlights are especially useful for identifying funnel maturity.

High-value Highlight categories

Offer

- 1-1 COACHING
- COACHING
- CONSULTING
- MENTORSHIP
- MASTERMIND
- PROGRAM
- COURSE
- ACADEMY
- WORK WITH ME

Proof

- RESULTS
- CLIENTS
- REVIEWS
- WINS
- TESTIMONIALS
- STUDENT WINS
- CASE STUDIES
- TRANSFORMATIONS

Funnel

- START HERE
- APPLY
- BOOK
- FREE COURSE
- FREE TRAINING
- WEBINAR
- MASTERCLASS
- BLUEPRINT

Personal brand

- MY STORY
- ABOUT ME
- MY JOURNEY
- PODCAST
- YOUTUBE
- PRESS

Highlight interpretation

A profile containing an Offer Highlight, Proof Highlight, Funnel Highlight, and Personal Brand Highlight is a strong ICP pattern.

Example:

RESULTS
1-1 COACHING

This profile structure indicates:

- A personal expert is central to the brand
- A paid offer likely exists
- Proof is deliberately presented
- The account has a defined conversion journey

Highlights are supporting evidence. They should not override contradictory evidence from the bio, content, or landing page.

6. Explicit Rejection Categories

Reject the following even when they have more than 5,000 followers:

- Generic influencers
 - Lifestyle creators with no coaching or course
 - Theme pages
 - Meme pages
 - Faceless content pages
 - E-commerce founders selling only products
 - SaaS founders selling only software
 - Real estate agents selling only property
 - Local practitioners selling appointments only
 - Agencies selling only done-for-you services
 - Freelancers selling only execution
 - Speakers without a paid coaching or educational offer
 - Affiliate marketers without a proprietary program
 - Coaches whose paid offer is no longer active
 - Company accounts that are not personal brands

7. Important Edge Cases

Course creator who does not call themselves a coach

Qualify when:

- The individual is the face of the account
- They teach a defined skill or transformation
- A paid course is visible
- The account has 5,000+ followers

Consultant with a done-for-you service

Qualify when consulting, advisory, coaching, or education is a meaningful part of the offer.

Reject when the business is purely fulfillment-based.

Personal brand attached to an academy

Qualify when the founder is visibly central to the marketing and sales process.

Creator with a free course only

Do not qualify based solely on a free course.

Look for evidence of:

- Paid coaching
- Paid course
- Mentorship
- Consulting
- Mastermind
- Paid community

Large creator with unclear monetization

Do not qualify merely because of audience size.

Send to manual review when monetization is plausible but cannot be confirmed.

Coach with 4,900 followers

Reject under the strict ICP rule.

Do not round the audience up or treat the threshold as approximate unless the business explicitly changes the rule.

9. Simplified Qualification Definition

A lead qualifies when all of the following are true:

1. They have at least 5,000 Instagram followers.
2. The profile is built around an identifiable individual.
3. The individual is a coach, consultant, mentor, or educator.
4. They sell a coaching, consulting, course, mentorship, mastermind, or transformation program.
5. The offer is promoted through their personal brand.
6. There is enough current evidence to conclude that the offer is active.

The remaining signals determine lead quality and outreach priority:

- Clear target audience
- Clear transformation
- Direct-response CTA
- Testimonials or results
- Mature Instagram funnel
- Posting activity
- Reach and views

Commercial fit should always come before engagement.
